ONCE in ſev'n years a famous houſe is clean,
Until through toil freſh company convene,
Another heap of dirt then ſoon appears,
And ſo abides another round of years;
This houſe much cleaner would be always kept,
If it was ordered oft'ner to be ſwept.
O for the arm of HERCULES! thy ſtream,
When ſwell'd unto a mighty torrent, Thame,
Should in due ſeaſon my great ſtrength obey,
And waſh the hated filth into the ſea. T. L.

INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.

LAST week as a Weſt-country Surgeon was diſſecting an Exciſeman, who was lately executed for killing his Mother Elizabeth Freedom, upon opening the Head, which was remarkably big, inſtead of Brains he found nothing but General Warrants and Permits; the Appearance of General Warrants ſo terrified the Surgeon that he dropt down and expired immediately.

WARSAW, FEBRUARY 20.

WE are aſſured that the principal motive of the prolongation of the conferences of the Commiſſion ariſes from the refuſal of the Miniſters of England, Sweden, Pruſſia, and Denmark, to ſign entirely the treaty between the Ruſſians and the republic; alledging that their orders were ſolely confined to the affair of the Diſſidents, and that they had no inſtructions with regard to the other ſtipulations of that treaty.

Feb. 25. The diſſolution of the confederacy is a point fixed on, as alſo the ſending away of the Ruſſian troops out of the republic's territories. Theſe troops are to be divided into bodies, one of which will begin its march toward the end of next month, the other about the 15*th of April, and will be allowed only fifteen days to depart the kingdom. General Apraxim, however, will remain in Poliſh Pruſſia, with three thouſand men, but we know not as yet for what object.*

WARSAW, March 9. The Death of the late Great General of Lithuania has made Room for many Promotions: Count Oginſki, Palatine of Wilna, is declared Great General of Lithuania: Prince Radzivil made Palatine of Wilna in his Place: Count Oginſki, Great Marſhal of Lithuania, made Caſtellan of Wilna: Prince Sanguſko, Vice-Marſhal, made Great Marſhal; and the Marquis de Wielopolſki, Vice-Marſhal de la Couronne, in the Place of Count Muiszeck, who has reſigned.

BERN, March 12. The poſt from Geneva is this inſtant arrived, by which we are informed, that Peace is happily reſtored to that Republic; the Plan of Arrangement and Reconciliation having been approved Yeſterday in the Council General, by a Majority of 1203 againſt 23.

March 16. By the laſt Letters from Geneva we are informed, that on Sunday laſt Meſſ. Lullin de Chateauvieux, Francis Fatio, John Lewis Grenus, and J. J. Bonnet, were elected Syndicks of that Republic; and that the Election was carried on with great Unanimity and Decency.

HAGUE, March 26. The Inhabitants of the Village of Petten upon this Coaſt, not far from the Texel, having been guilty of great Exceſſes with regard to the Crew and landing of the Ship Elizabeth Dorothea, belonging to the Dutch Eaſt India Company, and which was caſt away off that Place in the End of November laſt, a great Number of them were apprehended; and this Morning twenty-three of them were put upon the Scaffold here, nine of them were whipped, and the whole Band are to be baniſhed by Sentence of the Court of Holland.

His Serene Highneſs the Prince of Weilbourg and his Children are perfectly recovered of the Small-Pox, under the Care of the Engliſh Inoculators, who have been called to Rotterdam by ſeveral of the principal Inhabitants.

LONDON, MARCH 26.

ON Thurſday the ſheriffs caſt up, in the Council-chamber, Guildhall, the numbers that had polled at the late election for members of Parliament, and found them to agree exactly with the numbers that were ſcored up on Wedneſday evening at the cloſe of the poll. And,

Yeſterday was held, by adjournment, a common hall, when the numbers were declared by the ſheriffs; and that the Right Honourable Lord Mayor, Sir Robert Ladbroke, Knight; William Beckford and Barlow Trecothick, Eſqrs, were duly elected to repreſent this city in Parliament. After which the Gentlemen elected ſeverally made an addreſs of thanks to the Livery, from the huſtings, as did alſo John Paterſon, Eſq; and they all concluded with thanks to the ſheriffs for the upright conduct, and for their ſpirited endeavours to preſerve the peace during the courſe of the election. Sir Richard Glyn and Mr. Wilkes, the other two candidates, were not there.

Admiral Palliſer will ſail for his ſtation at Newfoundland by the 5th of April, and preſents have been ſhipt on board the Guernſey man of war to be diſtributed to the chiefs of the Mickmack Indians.

We hear the fortifications of Jerſey, Guernſey, and Scilly iſlands, are ordered to be ſurveyed this ſummer, and to be thoroughly repaired.

Letters from Corſica mention, that General Paoli has eſtabliſhed a naval magazine and dock yard at Porto Ferragio, where three ſhips of ſixty-ſeven guns on the Engliſh model are now building.

The Earl of Cheſterfield, we are told, is ſo much indiſpoſed, that he cannot walk without aſſiſtance.

A proſecution, 'tis ſaid, for a capital error, will ſoon be commenced againſt a very great perſonage of the Long Robe.

It is reported that a certain Lord, who had lately been the ſubject of converſation, ſold a very conſiderable ſum out of the Stocks a few days ago.

Another divorce between two noble perſonages is expected to take place ſoon after the commencement of the next ſeſſion of parliament.

Yeſterday a butcher near Clare-market ſet out for Iſleworth, and opened the Thiſtle Alehouſe there at his own expence, in the intereſt of Mr. Wilkes.

A maſter coachman in Weſtminſter has generouſly offered all his coaches and horſes to carry Mr. Wilkes's friends to Brentford, without any emolument.

'Tis thought that there will be more complaints to Parliament, on account of improper returns at the preſent election, than have been known ſince the Revolution.

A greater number of Gentlemen (Noblemen's ſons) are expected, we hear, to be called up to the Houſe of Peers at the meeting of the next Parliament, than has been known ſince the reign of Queen Anne.

The following is ſaid to be the letter ſent by John Wilkes, Eſq; to a great perſonage.—"SIRE, I beg thus to throw myſelf at your Majeſty's feet, and ſupplicate that mercy and clemency which ſhine with ſuch luſtre among your princely virtues. Some former miniſters, whom your Majeſty, in condeſcenſion to the wiſhes of your people, thought proper to remove, employed every wicked and deceitful art to oppreſs your ſubject, and to revenge their own perſonal cauſe on me, whom they imagined to be the principal author of bringing to the public view, their ignorance, inſufficiency, and treachery to your Majeſty and the nation — I have been the innocent and unhappy victim of their revenge. I was forced by their injuſtice and violence into an exile, which I have never ceaſed for ſeveral years to conſider as the moſt cruel oppreſſion; becauſe I no longer could be under the benign protection of your Majeſty in the land of liberty.— With a heart full of zeal for the ſervice of your Majeſty and my country, I implore, Sire, your clemency. My only hopes of pardon are founded in the great goodneſs and benevolence of your Majeſty: And every day of freedom you may be graciouſly pleaſed to permit me the enjoyment of, in my dear native land, ſhall give proofs of my zeal and attachment to your ſervice. I am, Sire, your Majeſty's moſt obedient and dutiful ſubject, JOHN WILKES."

The above which was delivered by Mr. Wilkes's ſervant at the Queen's palace, on the 4th of March, is the only application he has made for his pardon ſince his laſt return to England.

We are informed that a land tax will ſhortly be introduced into a neighbouring kingdom.

A gentleman was obſerving, on Thurſday, at a coffee-houſe in Pall-mall, that he thought the ſeveral candidates at the preſent general election, did not uſe the fair partners of their hearts with that generoſity they ought to do; the men arrogating to themſelves, "the great ſucceſs they had upon their canvaſs;" when, at the ſame time, it is a notorious fact, that in many of the cities and boroughs throughout England, it has, at this election, been the faſhion for the candidates ladies, much more than the candidates themſelves, to canvaſs amongſt the electors; and to their credit, infinitely rather than their huſbands, is to be placed the great ſucceſs attending the ſeveral canvaſſes throughout the kingdom.

It is computed that no leſs than forty-ſeven lives have been already loſt by the general election.

MARCH 28. A Commiſſion is ſaid to be preparing to paſs the Great Seal for appointing Guy Carleton, Eſq; Governor of Quebec.

William Sandford, Eſq; of Minehead in Somerſetſhire, is appointed Chief of the Gentlemen Penſioners, in the room of Sir Andrew Chadwick, deceaſed.

Several great bets are depending at the Weſt end of the town, that 200 new Members will be elected, who never ſat in the Houſe before.

By the Act 33 George II. chap. 20. every perſon who ſhall be elected a Member of the Houſe of Commons, ſhall, before he preſumes to vote in that Houſe, or ſit there during any debate, after their Speaker is choſen, deliver in to the Clerk of the ſaid Houſe, at the table in the middle of the Houſe, and whilſt the Houſe is there duly ſitting, &c. an account ſigned by ſuch Member, containing the names of the pariſhes, townſhips, or precincts, and of the counties in which the lands or hereditaments lie, whereby he makes out his qualification, declaring the ſame to be of the annual value of 600l. above reprizes, if a Knight of the Shire; and of the annual value of 300l. above reprizes, if a Citizen, Burgeſs, or Baron of the Cinque Ports; and ſhall, at the ſame time, take and ſubſcribe the following oath, viz.——"I, A. B. do ſwear, that I truly and bona fide have ſuch an eſtate in law or equity, and of ſuch value, to and for my own uſe and benefit, of, or in lands, tenements, or hereditaments, over and above what will ſatisfy and clear all incumbrances that may affect the ſame, as doth qualify me to be elected and returned to ſerve as a Member for the place I am returned for according to the tenor and true meaning of the Act of Parliament in that behalf; and that ſuch lands, tenements, or hereditaments, do lie as deſcribed in the paper or account ſigned by me, and delivered to the Clerks of the Houſe of Commons. So help me God!"

From Dublin we hear, that there is no oppoſition expected for that capital at the enſuing General Election in Ireland, conſequently their preſent Members, the Marquis of Killare and Dr. Lucas, will be unanimouſly recheſen repreſentatives for the ſame.

We are informed, that there have been fewer of the Iriſh Nobility and Gentry in London this winter, than has been known for many years before.

We hear from Ireland, that the Hon. Thomas Barnewall, now the eldeſt ſon of Lord Trimleſtown, in that kingdom, has lately conformed to the proteſtant Religion.

They write from Paris, that a number of counterfeit Engliſh guineas are now circulating there, ſo well executed that it requires great art to diſcover the fraud.

A few days ago, Peter Wilſon, for celebrating clandeſtine marriages, was, upon his own petition, baniſhed Scotland for life.

There is a report of Mr. Cooke's coach being ſet upon by the mob at Hyde Park Corner, and broke to pieces.——The mob would ſuffer no coaches to come in to Brentford without WILKES and LIBERTY on them.

Friday a perſon was tried and convicted at Kingſton for buying a hunter for fifteen ſhillings which coſt the owner ſeventy guineas; on the owner hearing of it the purchaſer immediately killed it and fed dogs with it: The trial laſted near eight hours, and the Jury found him guilty.

MARCH 29. Yeſterday morning an extraordinary meſſenger was diſpatched to his Excellency the Earl of Rochford, Ambaſſador at the Court of France.

The election for the county of Middleſex was finiſhed, as uſual in one day, on Monday laſt, when the poll was cloſed. The whole paſſed with the greateſt order and regularity at Brentford, where the two ſheriffs attended in perſon, as well as the three candidates, Sir William Beauchamp Proctor, George Cooke, Eſq; (the two old members) and John Wilkes, Eſq; Sir William and Mr. Wilkes remained the whole day on the huſtings; Mr. Cooke did not appear there at ſeven in the evening. Three proclamations were made, and no more appearing to poll, the ſheriffs declared the poll to be cloſed, and adjourned to next morning, at nine o'clock, to caſt up the books: Accordingly, yeſterday morning, the ſheriffs again attended at the uſual place in perſon, as did Sir William and Mr. Wilkes. After the books were all caſt up, the ſheriffs proclaimed that the numbers were,

For John Wilkes, Eſq;	1292
George Cooke, Eſq;	827
Sir William Beauchamp Proctor,	807

And then declared John Wilkes, Eſq; and George Cooke, Eſq; duly elected. William Beckford, Eſq; Sir George Colebrook, Sir Richard Glyn, Sir Francis Blake Delaval, Mr. Alderman Shakeſpeare, Mr. Cooke's ſon, and many other gentlemen, were on the huſtings. The mob were remarkably quiet and orderly, owing, it is generally imagined, to the prudent conduct of Mr. Wilkes and his friends; who, beſides the advertiſement in all the public papers, diſtributed 40,000 hand bills, recommending to all the voters to preſerve the peace and quiet of the county. The town of Brentford was illuminated on the Monday evening, and the utmoſt joy appeared on the countenance of almoſt every freeholder; but the illumination in London, exceeded any thing which has been known.

The following is the copy of a hand bill diſtributed by Mr. Wilkes's friends. "It is the humble requeſt of Mr. Wilkes to his friends of all denominations, that they would not, by any means, diſturb the peace, or moleſt any perſon, or prevent the voters coming to the place of polling, to give their free votes for whatever Candidate they think proper, that no exception may be taken to his conduct, or that of his friends, for the tranſaction of the day."

We hear that Mr. Wilkes, after his great fatigues, is ſet out for Bath to ſpend a few days there.

It was remarked, that ſeveral of the livery of London who lately voted againſt Mr. Wilkes at Guildhall, were the firſt to poll in his favour at Brentford.

Lord R. we hear, has loſt one thouſand guineas to fifty, by betting againſt Mr. Wilkes.

On Monday night laſt the houſe of Mr. Richard Wilkes, the ſign of the Robin Hood, near Great Turnſtile, Holborn, was opened at the expence of forty-five reſpectable neighbours, who all met there in the evening, and drank forty-five bottles of wine, and when the news arrived in town of Mr. Wilkes having a conſiderable majority of the other two candidates, forty-five candles were immediately lighted up in the windows, forty-five gallons of beer were given to the populace, and the evening was concluded with that order becoming ſo reſpectable a company.

It is ſaid John Paterſon, Eſq; ſtands candidate for the county of Surry.

We hear that Sir William Trelawney, Bart. will ſet out this week for Portſmouth, to embark on board the Jaſon man of war for Jamaica, of which place he is appointed Governor.

We are credibly informed, that orders have been ſent over to his Majeſty's Governors in America, for the future, to ſend over annually a true ſtate of the trade and manufactures in their reſpective colonies.

We hear there is expected very ſoon a memorial from the French court, expreſſing their diſapprobation of our intended ſcheme of ſheathing the navy of England with copper, alledging, that the King's ſhips not having rotten bottoms, as uſual, at the commencement of hoſtilities between the two crowns, may be productive of the unpolite rigour of compelling France to acquieſce in a peace many years ſooner than formerly, upon terms derogatory to the conſequence of the Grande Monarque.

Letters from Conſtantinople, dated February 15, ſay, "The Grand Seignor has been ſome few days paſt greatly indiſpoſed, inſomuch that laſt Friday he was not at the moſque, and it is ſince reported that he is dead."

By a moderate computation the Warmly charter has already coſt the contending parties upwards of 10,000l. notwithſtanding which an appeal will be made to the houſe of Peers next ſeſſions.

The infatuation for Mr. Wilkes was ſo great, that every perſon was obliged to declare for him, and have blue cockades, before they were admitted to poll.

The mob behaved in a very outrageous manner at Hyde-park-corner, where they pelted Mr. Cooke, ſon of the city Marſhal, and knocked him from his horſe, took of the wheels of one of the carriages, cut the harneſs, and broke the glaſſes to pieces; ſeveral other carriages, with the friends of Meſſrs. Proctor and Cooke, were greatly damaged. The reaſons aſſigned for theſe proceedings is, that a flag was carried before the proceſſion of Mr. Wilkes's antagoniſts, on which was painted "No blaſphemer."

In the evening, the roads from Brentford on each ſide, to Ratcliff-croſs, Mile-end, and through all the public ſtreets, were lined with immenſe crowds of people, who obliged every perſon in carriages to huzza for Mr. Wilkes.

About nine o'clock laſt night, upon the return of the pollers from Brentford, the mobility grew extremely riotous and tumultuous in the Strand, Fleet-ſtreet, &c. &c. where the inhabitants, in obedience to their commands, very expeditiouſly and brilliantly illuminated their houſes; when they arrived at the Manſion-houſe they broke ſome of the windows and lamps there, and behaved very diſorderly.

Laſt night, a little paſt eleven, a party of the guards arrived from the tower to quell the mob before the Manſion-houſe, who thereupon diſperſed.

The late remarkable trial of lord Baltimore and two women, came on exactly at half paſt ſeven in the morning, and laſted till three the next morning. Twelve out of twenty four jurymen were objected to by the priſoners. In the courſe of the trial, the proſecutrix gave evidence that ſhe was not prevailed upon for the firſt two nights of her confinement to undreſs or go into bed; and that on her arrival at the country houſe, ſhe was peremptorily told by the two women, that ſhe muſt at all events that night go to bed to his lordſhip, that ſhe was forcibly undreſſed by them, and put to bed to him accordingly. That afterwards in the ſtate of diſpair in which ſhe found herſelf, ſhe conſented to whatever was deſired of her, except what was criminal. Upon the return of the Jury, his lordſhip was ordered to hold up his hand, and the foreman anſwered to the uſual queſtion, not guilty. Upon the ſame queſtion being put concerning the firſt woman, the foreman anſwered, guilty; but their verdict, of not guilty, including all the three priſoners, they were all accordingly acquitted.

Another proſecution is carrying on in the ſame cauſe for the ſeduction only, which will be tried in the court of king's bench.

Miſs Woodcock was under examination four hours and a half, and afterwards croſs examined two hours; during all which time her teſtimony was the moſt conſiſtent, ſteady and ſenſible that ever was known, which drew tears from many of the audience.

Some letters from Leghorn ſay, it was currently reported there, that a body of Engliſh troops were expected to arrive about the month of June next in Corſica.

Letters from Marſeilles and Toulon mention, that orders had juſt been received there for the immediate equipment of ſeveral ſhips of war and tranſports, but the place of their deſtination was not yet known.

WAR-OFFICE, March 29. Major Charles Heathcote from half-pay, is appointed Major of the 4th regiment of foot, vice Charles Egerton, Eſq; who exchanges. Captain Hamlet Wade, Major of the 6th regiment of foot, vice Lieutenant Colonel Henry Patton, by purchaſe. Capt. Thomas Monerieffe is appointed Major of Brigade to the forces ſerving in North-America.

CHARLES-TOWN, MAY 31.

MESSIEURS John Edwards and Joſiah Smith, junior, are appointed, by his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, Commiſſioners of the Fortifications in Charles-Town, in the Room of Gabriel Manigault and Ebenezer Simmons, Eſquires, who have reſigned. Captain Jenkins of the Ninth Regiment of Foot, and Capt. The Proceedings are tranſmitted to the Commander in Chief, as the Buſineſs is now finiſhed.

The ſame Day arrived here in Captain Doran, from St. Auguſtine, Mr. Sinnot, Deputy to the Superintendant of Indian Affairs for the Southern Diſtrict.

'From Waxaws, about twelve Miles from the Catawba Settlement, we have the following Account. "On Sunday May 1ſt, the Catawba Indians had Notice that a Party of the Shawaneſe who have been long their Enemies, had been ſeen near their Town, on which they immediately raiſed a Party to go out againſt the Enemy, with whom they came up next Morning, and found them to be ſeven in Number, and all aſleep; the Catawbas immediately fired and killed three on the Spot, and took three Priſoners; one eſcaped wounded, but has been ſince found dead in the Woods.—— Among the Priſoners is the Indian who killed King Haggler; they were all delivered to the Families who have had their Relations killed by the Shawaneſe, who put them to Death in the inhuman barbarous Manner, common to the Indian Nations. One of the Priſoners was very young, and pleaded hard for his Life, begging them to conſider his tender Age, aſſuring them he was brought by his Brother againſt his own Inclinations, and that he had never killed or hurt any Body, but nothing could prevail."

Laſt Thurſday Mr. Baker one of our Pilots, ſpoke with a Sloop paſſing by this Bar, from Boſton for Georgia, 14 Days out, all well on board.
